Force Protection Measures in Milan

Due to the increase in local security measures in response to the recent global terrorist threat, it has become essential that U.S. military personnel, family members and DoD civilians stay clear of demonstrations, rallies or other large gatherings. The potential for violence always exists and should remain a priority in our planning and awareness.

Furthermore, the Sept. 22 bombing in Milan raises the possibility of further attacks in that city. Officials recommend that U.S. personnel avoid locations frequented by international tourists, including museums, public venues, public transportation and other attractions in Milan, at least through the Thanksgiving holiday. For more information contact SSgt. Jay Sample at DPTMS Security, 0711-7292-518.
